

“ what British Columbia students are saying after participating in BCSTH’s Violence Is Preventable Program ”

To call 9-1-1 when my parents are fighting

everyone deserves to feel safe

Abuse isn't ok!

this is the first abuse presentation I've seen

It helped me realize to break up with my abusive boyfriend

It is my right to say "no." No matter how long you've been together

I WILL REMEMBER HOW MANY PLACES I CAN GO TO FOR HELP. IT SEEMS TO ME THAT I'M LUCKY TO BE HERE

No one talks about it. We need to make the world a safer place for victims of violence

I feel better about myself

Respect women

To take any kind of violence seriously

I'll remember how to identify abusive relationships

I did not realize the amount of kids who witness abuse in BC

I REMEMBERED ALL THE DIFFERENT WAYS TO DEAL WITH STRESS OF A VIOLENT HOME LIFE

I think I will not abuse my wife

Signs of abuse, I recognize many of the signs in my dad

if my parents fight it isn't my fault (which I didn't know before)

That it is preventable
